

Free Wills Month: Your chance to secure your future this October

This October, Free Wills Month returns, giving you the opportunity to write or update your will for free! If you're aged 55 or over, this is your chance to get professional help and ensure your wishes are legally protected—all without cost.

How Free Wills Month works

Free Wills Month partners with solicitors across the UK to offer this valuable service. Simply visit the Free Wills Month website in October to register your interest. If you qualify to use the service, you'll be able to find a participating solicitor near you and book your appointment. Your will can be created or updated at no charge, with the option to leave a charitable donation in your will, though this is entirely optional.

Who can take part?

If you're 55 or older, you qualify for Free Wills Month. Couples can also participate if one person meets the age requirement. This is an excellent chance to gain peace of mind and protect your family's future, so remember to visit the Free Wills Month website this October.
